

Since the New Jersey law has gone into effect the telemarketer calls have been reduced to almost zero. Should the FCC decide to weaken our law back to the federal statute then it just shows again the influence that the lobbyist's money has on government agencies.